

UNDERSTANDING THE BUILDING BLOCKS OF A MILITARY INSTALLATION RESILIENCE PLAN

Last Modified on 11/05/2021 1:07 pm EDT

Congress directed DoD to integrate resilience plans into its installation master plans back in 2020. While limited progress has been made toward developing plans for each base, there is work being done that forms the building blocks needed to meet this requirement. The panel will discuss what installations need to do to develop such plans and how resilience plans will contribute to mission assurance.
