

JOINT SERVICE INSTALLATION ENERGY LEADERSHIP ROUNDTABLE

Last Modified on 11/02/2022 12:01 pm EDT

Installation energy resilience is critical to mission effectiveness. Developing the right partnerships with communities, utilities and industry is important to developing energy resilience projects that support the critical missions on the installation but can benefit the surrounding community. This session explores best practices and case studies to identify the right energy project that is a win-win for all parties.
