

LEVERAGING AVAILABLE FUNDING TO MEET RESILIENCE CHALLENGES: PART ONE

Last Modified on 11/02/2022 12:02 pm EDT

The government provides multiple funding streams for communities and installations to address resilience requirements for mission support and business continuity. But the roadmap to understanding all available resources is not always evident. We have assembled a two-part panel with representation from federal entities, communities and the private sector to help guide this path to accessible dollars to package solutions that meet your local needs.
