

THE RENOVATION OF KUHN HALL INTO A CUTTING-EDGE EDUCATION AND RESILIENCE CENTER

Last Modified on 11/02/2022 12:49 pm EDT

The Fort Meade Alliance and its Foundation have embarked on a significant partnership with the U.S. Army and the Fort George G. Meade Garrison to establish a resiliency campus for the service personnel, their families and civilians at the Installation.

The plan includes the renovation of Kuhn Hall on the installation and its conversion into the Education and Resiliency Center, which will serve as the hub of information, programming and services for our Fort Meade community. The center is an Army-wide but not Army-exclusive initiative that focuses on the five areas of resiliency: physical, emotional, social, family and spiritual. At this center, individuals and their families will be able to locate those essential programs that will help them with issues or concerns and manage the unique challenges they face. The building will be completed in November 2022.
